

Indomitable - Developmental Editing Review Guide

J Merrill Publishing

Good day Quanisha,

Your Developmental Editing review package is ready. This guide explains what to review and how to respond.

What has been completed

- We have prepared a developmentally edited manuscript for Indomitable.
- The work focused on helping the manuscript carry your testimony clearly while preserving your voice.
- This stage is for your review before the manuscript moves into the next editorial phase.

What to review

Please read the attached manuscript and look for anything that affects author intent, factual accuracy, testimony, names, sequence of events, sensitive details, or your comfort with how the story is presented.

How to respond

Reply directly to the email with one of the following:

- Approved as presented.
- Approved with the corrections listed below.
- I have questions or need clarification.

If you have corrections, please include them in one reply when possible. You may describe the chapter, section, or wording you want us to revisit.

What happens next

After we receive your response, J Merrill Publishing will review it and determine the next governed editorial step. The manuscript will not move into the next editorial stage until this review gate is resolved.

Thank you for trusting us with Indomitable. We are handling this work with care.

J Merrill Publishing

A Division of J Merrill One